This image shows a blank white page. There are three faint, thin horizontal lines across the page, which appear to be scanning artifacts or very light grid lines. The first line is near the top, the second is in the middle, and the third is near the bottom. The rest of the page is completely empty.

The image shows a vertical rectangular document template. It features a solid light blue horizontal band at the very top. The main body of the page is white and contains five thin, black horizontal lines positioned in the upper-left quadrant. These lines are of varying lengths and are stacked vertically. A second solid light blue horizontal band runs across the bottom of the page. There is no text or other graphical elements present.
